PRIVATE SECTOR HIRING

Frontier Protectivewear Announces Eight Vacancies, Adding Skilled Job Opportunities in West Bengal

Published: 23 October 2026

Kolkata: Frontier Protectivewear Pvt. Ltd. has shared recruitment requirements for eight positions across five functions, offering opportunities for professionals in tendering, merchandising, textile quality control, textile engineering and rubber technology.

The vacancies comprise four Textile QC Executives and one position each for Tender Executive, Merchandiser, Textile Engineer (B.Tech) and Rubber Technologist.

For West Bengal's job seekers, the recruitment drive presents openings across both technical and commercial disciplines. The combination of roles brings attention to career opportunities that connect engineering knowledge, product quality and business operations.

Textile quality control accounts for half of the announced vacancies, making it the largest requirement in this recruitment round. The additional openings in textile engineering and rubber technology provide opportunities for candidates with specialised technical backgrounds, while merchandising and tendering offer avenues for commercially oriented professionals.

The hiring requirements illustrate how a single employer can generate demand across several skill categories. For graduates and experienced professionals in West Bengal, such vacancies offer scope to pursue careers aligned with their qualifications and industry experience.

Although these eight openings alone do not establish a wider employment trend, they represent a concrete addition to the opportunities available in the state's job market. Detailed eligibility criteria, compensation and selection arrangements should be checked against the respective vacancy notices.
